Proceedings in equity were instituted to day by Charles W. Critchfield and Wilson Critchfield as executors of the will of Ellen J. Campbell, deceased, against George J. Easterday, executor of the estate of Thomas B. Campbell and others, for the purpose of having set aside a deed purporting to have been made by Ellen J. Campbell during her lifetime, and a trust deed to secure Sarah E. R. Queen in the sum of $3,000. The court is informed that the real estate situated in this city is of the value of $17,000, and was conveyed at the direction of Mrs. Campbell's husband for the nominal consideration of $10, at a time when she was of unsound mind and physfeally unable to write her name. It is al-leged by the complainants that they are brothers of Mrs. Campbell, and as she left no children surviving her they are entitled to have the deeds declared null and void. IN CUBAN CONGRESS

LOAN AND TARIFF MEASURES MOST IMPORTANT.

Minister Squires Informs State Department in Detail on These Pending Propositions.

An interesting report on pending legislation before the Cuban Senate and House has been transmitted to the State Department by Minister Squires. The two things of importance are the proposed Cuban loan proposition and the tariff revision meas-

There are two propositions for the loan, one having been originated in each house. The Senate bill is now before the House and seems to be the one most favorably talked of. However, I understand there is some considerable objection in the House to certain provisions of the Senate bill, particularly article 10, which I will report as soon as I am better informed.

The text of the bill shows that in section 10 the executive is directed to negotiate a loan of $35,000,000, the proceeds of which are to be used in part for the payment of the indebtedness and obligations "legally contracted in behalf of the revolution by the four commanders of the liberating army after February 25, 1895, and prior to September 19 of the same year, and to the payment of the indebtedness and obligations which the revolutionary government itself, or through its legal representatives, may have contracted previously in foreign countries, in compliance with the first transitory provision of the Constitution." Another section provides for the "payment of the wages of the liberating army of Cuba, after the rolls of said army have been revised and the compensation due each member thereof has been decided."

Tariff Revision.

Mr. Squires also gives in detail a comparison of the tariff rates at present and the proposed increase, as follows:

TREATY WITH CHINA.

tariff treaty between China and this country. It was stipulated as one of the fea-and the foreign powers at the close of the Boxer outbreak that an entirely new fabric of trade treatles should be made. This carried out the purpose Secretary Hay had maintained throughout the preceding ne-gotiations for an "open door," the desire being to open up foreign communications with the interior of China and thus gain access to the vast markets of the empire.

Following the conclusion of the peace arrangements Mr. Sharretts was selected to carry on the tariff negotiations in behalf of the United States. This selection was due to his long familiarity with tariff affairs, as he had assisted in the framing of recent tariff legislation before Congress, and had also served as one of the general appraisers at New York. He went to China about a year ago, and has since been engaged in working out the details of a tariff agreement. It was announced about a month ago that the British commissioners had concluded a tariff treaty with China, and it was understood at that time the British treaty would serve as a basis for similar treaties with the United States and other foreign countries. The State Depart-ment was advised at the time that the changes the present ad valorem tariff of Cnina to specific rates. This is in accordance with the protocol, and the specific rate

agreed upon is basd on the average value of products imported into China during the past twenty years. Under the terms of the protocol this change from ad valorem to specific rates does not need the signature of China. The change will no doubt make some difference in the rates of duty, but is not regarded as a revision of the tariff to any general extent.

It is expected that in a commercial treaty the tariff will be changed to a considerable extent. The commissioners on the part of the United States to negotiate this treaty

No notice was given for house 3233. After complaint was made about the condition of the boiler in the house at 3233 a plumber from this department was sent to make repairs. He reported the boiler in such a bad condition that it could not be repaired.

"The pressure on N street between 32d and Potomac streets is about seventy-three pounds per square inch. While this section was on the gravity feed, pressure at this point was about twenty pounds per square inch. This department is not responsible for defective service pipes and boilers. A boiler or service pipe that will not stand a pressure of seventy-three pounds per square inch is not a fit one for effective service. WOMAN'S AUXILIARIES

PLANS FOR FEMININE VISITORS AT G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

Generous Provision Made by Local Patriotic Bodies-Committees Hard at Work.

The work women are doing for the entertainment and comfort of the women's organizations, auxiliaries of and al'ied to the Grand Army of the Republic, which will meet in Washington at the national encampment the second week in October, is on a most extensive scale, and it is now thought will excel anything ever before attempted at a national encampment. The plan of entertainment is now pretty well mapped out, and the committees are vigorously perfecting all the arrangements. Mr. B. H. Warner, chairman of the citizens' committee, appointed Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey, wife of the late Gen. R. D. Mussey, chairman of the woman's auxiliary committee. Mrs. Mussey, who enjoys the honor of being the only woman dean of a law school in the wor'd, is a lady of great executive ability and much tact. She has succeeded admirably in marshaling under her committees all the patriotic organizations of women in the District of Columbia. The funds that the citizens' committee has apportioned Mrs. Mussey to carry on her plans is far from munificent, so it is necessary for each of the subcommittees to raise its own funds.

National headquarters for the Woman's Relief Corps, Ladies of the G. A. R. and Daughters of Veterans will be maintained at the Ebbitt House. The army nurses will have headquarters at the Bancroft, and will hold the sessions of their convention at the Washington Club, 1710 I street northwest, the famous woman's club of the city.
The national convention of the Woman's Relief Corps will hold its sessions in the Church of Our Father, corner of 13th and L street, which is easy of access by elec-tric cars from any portion of the city. The national organization of the Ladies of the G. A. R. will hold its sessions in the Lutheran Memorial Church, just beyond Thomas circle, on 14th street, also easily reached by electric cars. The Daughters of Veterans will hold their conventions in the hall at the corner of 5th and G streets. reached by two lines of electric cars.

Convention Halls and Programs. All these convention halis have commodious committee and conference rooms, and will be arranged with every convenience for working members of the convention. As has been customary for several years, a lunch will be served to the delegates and working members of each convention Thursday and Friday of convention week. The general receptions and other festivities and social functions will all take place Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 6, 7 and 8, particulars of which will be given later, when all the preliminaries have been settled. The national conventions of the woman's orders will probably open on Thursday morning, as has been the custom. The grand review of the veterans will take place on Wednesdar.

The headquarters of the woman's auxillary committee is located in the building with that of the citizens' committee, corner of 14th street and New York avenue The secretary, Mrs. M. V. McCullough, will gladly answer all inquiries concerning the encampment plans so far as made. In this connection it might be of interest to those who come to Washington as strangers, unacquainted with the city, to know that at committee headquarters a strenuous effort is being made to locate in comfortable quarters all those who contemplate coming to Washington at the time of the national encampment, whether those desiring accommodations are members of any patriotic organizations or not. While saving of time is sometimes desirable, it is suggested that excellent boarding places and rooming places, either or both, as may be desired, can be secured at very reasonable rates at a short distance out. transportation system of Washington is excellent, and no difficulty will be experienced in getting from one point to an-

Lodgings at Low Rates.

Committees of ladies from the various organizations, wearing plainly marked badges, will be on duty at the railway stations to meet the incoming guests and direct them to their quarters if already provided, or to assist them in securing the same if selection has not been made.

It is probable that lodgings will be available at the rate of $1 a day, possibly a little less, with two or four in a room. These are regular encampment rates for comfortable quarters, and there is no disposition in Washington to raise them. Excellent meals can be procured in any section of the city for 25 cents. Good lunches are to be served for 15 cents.

In closing it might be well to state that living. It is said that one can live more cheaply and better in Washington than in any other city of its size in the world. Mrs. Mussey has so planned her work that none of it will fall too heavily on any one organization. To look after the comfort of the national organization of the Woman's Relief Corps she has appointed a committee of 200 women, all members of the order, and has selected for its chairman Mrs. Lida A. Oldroyd, who is president of the Department of the Potomac Woman's Relief Corps. Mrs. Annie W. Johnson, past department president, is vice Organization of Committees.

There are two circles of Ladies of the G. A. R. in Washington. The president of the oldest circle, Mrs. Emma Hawkes, was made chairman and Mrs. Kate Lemmon, president of the last-formed circle, was made vice chairman. The committee has a membership of fifty.

There being no local organization of the Association of Army Nurses Mrs. Mussey appointed as chairman for that body of women Mrs. Charlotte Main, a prominent member of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The Legion of Loyal Women, a large organization of patriotic women of the District of Columbia, of which Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey is a past president, having no national organization of its own to engage its attention, has determined to make the comfort of the army nurses its special care, and with its president, Mrs. Ada H. Weiss, is arranging to entertain its guests in a truly splendid manner. Mrs Mussey's aids on this big committee num ber about 200.

The secretary of the woman's auxiliary committee is Mrs. M. V. McCullough, who is giving all her time and attention to the great work before her. chairman of the reception committee is Mrs. Ulysses S. Grant. The chairman of the press committee is Mrs. Isabel Worrell Ball, a practical news-paper woman. Miss Helena McCarthy of The Evening Star is vice chairman and the women. The chairman of the committee on Daughters of Veterans is Mrs. Elizabeth Stanley, its national president. The La-dies' Auxiliary No. 32, Union Veteran Lerion, will serve lunch to this organization.

The chairman of the committee on public comfort is Mrs. Lizzie Calver; on decora-tions, Mrs. Ada H. Weiss; on courtesies Miss Cornella Clay; on flowers, Mrs. Mary V. Goundie; on badges, Miss Helen B. Matthews; on halls, Mrs. Davis.

Inasmuch as the review is necessarily speculative the department will not give it out at present. no one should be deterred from coming to Washington through fear of high prices of ever, that the revolutionary government of ever, that the revolutionary government of General Firmin does not assert authority over all of Haiti, but calls itself the government of the northeast, which is a detached portion of the island. This suggests to the officials here the possibilties of a recurrence of the incidents when Haiti and San Domingo were separated. These two countries were formerly one, but a revolutionary movement developed, the revolutionists asserting authority over a portion of the island, which thereafter became Haiti. In the present case it is thought that General Firmin may intend to set up an independent government, not over all Haiti, but over the northeast section.

ARRIVAL WAS OPPORTUNE. Commander McCrea Reports on Conditions at Cape Haitien.

The Navy Department has received a mail report from Commander McCrea of the gunboat Machias, dated Cape Haitien, July 31, detailing the conditions as he found them upon his arrival from Colon, whence he sailed for Haiti under instructions of the department. The report is as follows:

"In obedience to your order to proceed immediately and consult with the consul at Cape Haltien, I arrived here on the 28th, oming as fast as I could without using forced draught. Any delay in arriving is due to the ship's foul bottom. "The arrival of the ship was considered ery opportune, as an attack by land and sea was considered imminent. I called on the provisional governor, Gen. Nord Alexis, who is also secretary of war in the pro-visional cabinet. He told me he was too much engaged as governor, and practically in the field, to return my visit at once, but would be glad to do so if we remained here long enough. He also declared he did not consider foreign interests menaced, also that there must be an end to this move-ment very soon. The movement 1 self he could not very clearly explain, for the rea-son that his own advices were very meager and unreliable. "I told the consul to communicate to the foreign consuls that I would object to any bombardment by the rebel ships without due notice. There are no important American interests existing at this place. Business is at a standstill.

"Most of the business houses have sealed their doors, and rendezvous have been assigned all foreigners at the consulates, or in the adjacent houses over which the flags are hoisted. "On the 31st I called again on the governor, General Nord Alexis. He told me he had received a large consignment of arms and ammunition, and would immediately advance against the enemy. To my question, 'Do you know of any antag tion, 'Do you know of any antagonism against the foreign consuls or merchants by the lower classes of citizens?' he replied, 'No, I do not think it exists.' We then entered into an arrangement by which he was to inform me, by a signal, of his retreat, in which case I agreed to land and protect embarkation of foreigners in case I considered it necessary. He reiterated the statement that a man of war in the harbor now was most welcome and necessary.
